This conference honors the memory of Partha Niyogi who was the Louis Block Professor in Computer Science and Statistics at the University of Chicago.

Partha has made fundamental contributions to a variety of fields including language evolution, statistical inference, and speech recognition unified by the central idea of learning.

This conference will reflect Partha’s interests and pay honor to his broad vision and unique insights.

Confirmed Speakers
Yali Amit, University of Chicago • Robert Berwick, MIT • Peter Bickel, University of California, Berkeley • Sanjoy Dasgupta, University of California, San Diego • Antonio Galves, University of São Paulo • Aren Jansen, Johns Hopkins University • Alexey Koloydenko, Royal Holloway, University of London • Vladimir Koltchinskii, Georgia Institute of Technology • Natalia Komarova, University of California, Irvine • Karen Livescu, Toyota Technological Institute at Chicago • Partha Mitra, Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory • Hariharan Narayanan, MIT • Martin Nowak, Harvard University • Tomaso Poggio, MIT • Robert Schapire, Princeton University • Vikas Sindhwani, IBM • Amit Singer, Princeton University • Steve Smale, City University of Hong Kong • Shmuel Weinberger, University of Chicago • Jun Zhang, University of Kentucky

Conference Location:
University of Chicago Computation Institute, Room 240a and 240b, Searle Chemistry Laboratory, 5735 South Ellis Avenue, Chicago, IL 60637

Those wishing to attend should register online:
http://parthaniyogiconference.cs.uchicago.edu/
There is no charge for registration.